Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 69-73 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. Applicant fails to disclose or teach a "providing a first probe having a first diameter; measuring a first distance between at least a first point of the articular surface and a first plane substantially normal to the working axis at a distance substantially normal to said first diameter of the first probe from said working axis; providing a second probe having a second diameter; and measuring a second distance between at least a second point of the articular surface and a second plane substantially normal to the working axis at a distance substantially equal to the second diameter of said second probe from said working axis." There is no mention of measuring a first distance between at least a first point of the articular surface and a first plane substantially normal to the working axis at a distance substantially equal to the first diameter of the first probe from a working axis. And using the same working axis, there is no mention of providing a second probe having a second diameter; and measuring a second distance between at least a second point of the articular surface and a second plane substantially normal to the working axis at a distance substantially equal to the second diameter of said second probe from said working axis.

In a conversation with applicant on 6/16/08, applicant referred to para [0245] of the published application. However, a reading of para [0245] did not reveal all the limitations as claimed by applicant. In para [0245] applicant discloses "when articular surface mapping is done using one axis normal to the surface of the implant , two measuring probes may be utilized. one measuring probe may be utilized to map the points for the AP curve and another smaller diameter measuring probe may be utilized to map points for the ML curve so as it is revolved its captures the data for points M and L. Nowhere in the specification and drawings, applicant discloses measuring a first or second distance between a first or second point and a first or second plane substantially normal to the working axis at a distance substantially equal to said first or second diameter of said first or second probe from said working axis.

Therefore, applicant fails to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the first probe, the second probe and a working axis; a first or second distance between the first or second point and a first or second plane, and a distance substantially equal to said first or second diameter of said first or second probe from said working axis must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Conclusion

A shortened statutory period for reply to this action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action.
